Amino acids: building blocks of life.....
customized solutions for individual requirements

Why VITATONIC?

VITATONIC supplies you with vital amino acids. Amino acids are the "building blocks" of proteins and consequently of the body. Besides building cells and repairing tissue, amino acids form antibodies to combat invading bacteria and viruses; they are part of the enzyme and hormonal system; they build RNA and DNA of which the genes consist; they carry oxygen throughout the body and participate in muscle activity.

Any kind of stress, aging, diseases, exercise as well as pollution will cause deficits and imbalances in amino acid contents in the body. In addition, we may not be getting optimal amounts of critical amino acids into our body either through poor dietary habits, inadequate digestion and absorption of proteins. This results in amino acid imbalances causing symptoms such as burn-out syndrome, decreased vitality, sleeping disorders, depression, fatigue, allergies, frequent colds and influenza as well as decreased performance in daily life and exercise.

Because amino acid balance is critical to good health, the amino acid analysis of your blood provides additional options in treating your specific health condition by tailored amino acid supplementation.

VITATONIC is the first product containing a fine tuned and tailored mixture of pharmaceutical grade amino acids, vitamins and trace elements that take care of your individual requirements. Because we are all different and have disparate needs, the ideal choice is to fine-tune the supplement intake. The individualized composition of Vitatonic is based on the result of a blood test. This makes Vitatonic a unique supplement to increase your physical and mental performance and vitality.
